The May photo was a store/gas station located on Route 7 just north of Middlebury where the Hospice building is now located. Farnsworth's New Haven History book said it was the, "Guernsey's 'Otter Valley Camp' "and places it next door to the old Sugar House motel and restaurant circa 1938.

New Haven Congregational Church Food Closet:

The Meat and More on May 13th was well attended. The Rogers family donated fresh spinach that was very much appreciated by all. Our next Meat and More will be on June 10th which will be set up outside. A huge thank you to the people of the town who left donations in their mailboxes; the New Haven Post Office gave all that food to us. We appreciate all your help with stocking the shelves.

Library News:

I've been busy at the library over the spring months--from local author visits with local mycologists and children's author, to passing out white birch saplings to Addison County families, to our first cookbook book club (a deliciously social affair). Thank you for coming out to support the library's programs, enjoy our social and educational programs, and get a chance to meet and talk with neighbors, new and old. The Library is in the midst of preparing for our busy summer of reading; our summer months are always our busiest! And let's not forget our Summer Reading Program for kids, teens, and the community. The library will be back with more community events and a program to encourage reading for kids throughout the summer. Families will be able to pick up summer reading logs at the library starting June 20th. Plus, to kick things off for the summer, the library will host a tote bag art program on Saturday, June 24th at 10:00 am. Stop by the library to "print" your own one-of-a-kind creation. It will be the perfect accessory to tote your library books! Katie Male-Riordan, Library Director
